II NARRATIVE OF OPERATIONS:

From 1 April 1953 to 8 April 1953, the regiment continued its defensive mission, occupying Line JAMESTOWN vic CT133131 to vic CT136154, with the 9th Infantry on the right and 38th Infantry on the left. From 9 to 16 April 1953, the regiment was in Corps Reserve at Camp CASEY vic CS3198; from 17 to 23 April 1953, improving defenses on Line HOLDBACK; 24 to 26 April 1953 in Corps Reserve at Camp CASEY; and for the remainder of the month improving defenses on Line KANSAS.

At the beginning of the period, the 2d Battalion was responsible for the defense of Line JAMESTOWN with Hq Co vic CT149135; E Co vic CT147146; F Co vic CT135141; G Co vic CT137148; and H Co vic CT142138. One (1) platoon of regimental Hq & Hq Co was attached, with one (1) platoon Heavy Mortar Co and one (1) platoon Tank Co in direct support.

The 1st, 3d (-), and French Battalions were in Division reserve and conducted training. Counterfire Platoon of regimental Hq & Hq Co was attached to 2d Division Artillery and an element of K Co was responsible for security of FTC #1.

One (1) platoon 2d Engineers C Bn was in support of the regiment and the 20th Field Regiment, 1st Commonwealth Division Artillery, was in direct support.

On 4 April 1953, the 1st Bn was ordered to furnish security for the PARKER and HARLEQUIN Bridges. B Co assumed responsibility for security of PARKER Bridge vic CT231096 at 041800I and D Co for security of HARLEQUIN Bridge vic CT138075 at 041800I.(1)

At 070155I April 1953, an estimated enemy platoon attacked a Co G outguard vic CT134147. A five (5) minute firefight ensued with the enemy employing PPSH fire, hand grenades and 100 rounds of mixed artillery and mortar fire. Friendly mortar fire was called in and the enemy withdrew. The outguard was reinforced with one (1) squad at 070205I. Four (4) men were discovered missing, one of whom returned to the MLR at 070233I, after having escaped capture during the artillery barrage. Co G dispatched one (1) platoon to screen the area and returned at 070555I with one (1) friendly KIA. At 070835I, the 2d friendly KIA was found. Friendly casualties were 2 KIA, 1 WIA, and 1 MIA. There were no estimated enemy casualties.(2)

At 070600I April 1953, the French Battalion (-Hq Co and CP) departed their areas and closed new locations at Camp CASEY as follows: P Co vic CS332986 at 070830I; O Co vic CS333989 at 070900I; Q Co vic CS332984 at 070930I; and N Co vic CS332984 at 081130I.

Co B of the 1st Battalion was relieved of security of PARKER Bridge at 072105I and 1st platoon Heavy Mortar Co reverted to parent control at 072105I.

The regiment was relieved of responsibility of defense of line JAMESTOWN vic CT133131 to vic CT136154 at 080600I April 1953, and opened new CP vic CS312985 (Camp CASEY) at 081200I. The 2d Battalion passed to operational control of the 25th Brigade, 1st Commonwealth Division, and continued defense of line JAMESTOWN. The 20th Field Regiment, 1st Commonwealth Division Artillery was relieved of direct support. Co D was relieved of security of HARLEQUIN Bridge. Heavy Mortar Co (-), Tank Co (-) and the 3d Battalion passed to operational control of the 25th Brigade and remained in previously reported positions. The 1st Battalion departed at 080600I and closed new area at 081200I, with CP located vic CS301986.(3)

At 082205I April 1953, a ten (10) man G Co outguard vic CT134152 was attacked by an estimated enemy company (-). The enemy was detected by a listening device and the friendly forces opened up with small arms and hand grenades. The enemy returned fire, supported by automatic weapons and mortar, and the firefight lasted approximately five (5) minutes before the outguard was overrun. As a result of this outbreak, G Co was reinforced by two (2) platoons and medical personnel of E Co at 082221I. Co E was reinforced by one (1) platoon from L Co. During this period, an estimated 900 rounds of mortar and artillery fell on the G Co positions. A screening patrol discovered wire cutters and evidence that two (2) men had been dragged from their positions. Friendly casualties were 7 KIA, 1 WIA and 2 MIA. Enemy casualties were an estimated 15 KIA.(4)

Heavy Mortar Co and 2d and 3d Battalions were relieved from operational control of the 25th Brigade at 090600I April 1953, and prepared to depart forward areas for Camp CASEY.

Heavy Mortar Co departed at 090700I and closed vic CS310985 at 091300I. 3d and French Battalions (-) and Service Co departed at 091300I with 3d Battalion closing vic CS305983 at 091630I, Service Co vic CS306983 at 091800I, and French Battalion (Hq Co & CP) vic CS323985 at 092100I.(4)

Tank Co was relieved from operational control of the 25th Brigade and departed at 101057I April 1953. They closed new area vic CT3709 at 101315I and passed to operational control of the 72d Tank Battalion.(5)

With all units at Camp CASEY, the regiment (-) improved areas, conducted showdown inspections of personnel and equipment, and prepared to conduct training.

The training program was established on a six (6) day per week basis with Sundays devoted to religious activities, maintenance of equipment and recreation, with only necessary guard and fatigue.

Combat Readiness was the objective of each and every part of the program, from the individual and squad, to the company and battalion. Each company maintained progress charts which were posted at the completion of each training day.

Language training was for one (1) hour per day, in which the "buddy system" was employed to ensure that non-English speaking individuals gained the maximum from the training presented.

The scope of training included: Field Fortifications, Use of Radio, Range Firing, Camouflage, cover and concealment, Use of T-45 flares, hand and rifle grenades, Squad in Attack, defenses, patrolling, Employment of Outguards, night vision, mine fields, and physical training.(6)

On 13 April 1953, the regiment (-) observed four (4) Squad in Attack demonstrations by ROK Army personnel.

On 17 April 1953, the regiment (-) moved to a blocking position to improve and construct defenses on Line HOLDBACK from CT350335 to CT394307. The forward CP was opened at 170445I vic CT355293. Medical Co opened a Collecting Station vic CT358294 at 170600I; and B Co, 2d Eng C Bn, continuing in support of the regiment, moved to vic CT370295 at 178301.

III INTELLIGENCE:

While defending Line JAMESTOWN from 1-8 April 1953, the regiment was opposed by elements of the 46th and 47th Chinese Communists Armies.

Enemy patrol activity was negative until 7 April 1953, when an estimated enemy platoon conducted a raid against a Co G four (4) man outguard. This was followed by a CCF raid on 8 April 1953 against another G Co outguard by a reinforced platoon. Indications are that both enemy probes were made in anticipation of a friendly relief.

Enemy artillery and mortar fire during the period was negligible, except for the night of 8-9 April 1953, when approximately 900 rounds fell in the vicinity of G and F Cos' forward positions.

Enemy casualties during the period 8-9 April 1953, were estimated to be heavy among the enemy combat patrols.

The Counter-Intelligence Corps Section attached to the regiment screened fifty (50) unauthorized persons during the month of April 1953.

IV PERSONNEL:

During the month of April 1953, the 23d Infantry received 626 replacements and 29 hospital returnees. There were 23 battle casualties and 40 non-battle casualties.

Fifteen officers and 380 enlisted men were either rotated or transferred, resulting in the regiments being at 88.7% strength, and the French Battalion at 97.4% strength at the close of the period.

The following table indicates the breakdown of regimental strength as of 30 April 1953:

	Officers	Enlisted Men
1st Battalion	38	739
2d Battalion	38	729
3d Battalion	36	738
French Battalion	47	994
Special Units	54	852
Assigned KATUSA	1	555
Total	214	4607

A total of 186 civilians were employed by the regiment.

During the month, 8 men were tried by courts-martial; 2 were general courts, 2 were special courts, and 4 were summary courts.

The Graves Registration Service Section handled 14 bodies.

The morale of the friendly troops was excellent.

Services of the American Red Cross were available through Mr. Carlton E. Martin 55958, Assistant Field Director, American Red Cross.

Three Chaplains were available for personal consultations. Religious services were conducted each Sunday.

The Special Service Officer made movies and special service shows available to the regiment, and a Service Center was operated in the Regimental Trains area. Facilities included a Post Exchange, theater, day room, shower point, and barber shop.

Twenty-one officers and 187 enlisted men went on Rest and Recuperation Leave to Japan during the month.

The following awards were given to men of the 23d Infantry:

3 Bronze Stars for Valor

37 Bronze Stars for Meritorious Service

32 Commendation Ribbons with Metal Pendant
