To the Editor:

I would like to point out that a recent Letter to the Editor entitled "Forgotten war" is rather out of character with the true facts surrounding the drive to build a national Korean War memorial.

Long before Charles McCarren formed his group, a disabled veteran by the name of Bill Temple of Bryn Mawr was interviewed by Frank Rossi of The Inquirer concerning Mr. Temple's intense efforts to build a Korean War memorial. Mr. Temple's efforts have never ended to this day.

Other articles have been written about Mr. Temple, and the small group of individuals who finally succeeded, after years of effort, in convincing Congress to pass House Bill 2205. President Reagan signed the bill to authorize the Korean War Memorial in Washington on Oct. 28.
